Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Coy (5,062,531) in view of Balmer (6,475,432) and Cottone et al. (5,707,173; hereinafter Cottone'173) or Lowe (5,758,775). Coy discloses a compact utility holder (10) comprising a holding container (10, 12, 14) having sufficient thickness, width and length having a top (12) with a plurality of recess areas (28-34) having sufficient width and length, a bottom, and first, second, third and fourth sides (Figures 1-3). Coy also discloses the other limitations of the claims except for the bottom comprises an adhesive material with an adhesive protective cover and each of the corner comprises a radius. Balmer teaches a holder (6) comprising a holding container (10) having a plurality of recess areas (8) and first, second, third and fourth sides with each side having a radius corner (Figure 1). Cottone'173 shows a holder (10) including a bottom having an adhesive (60) with a protective cover comprising a pull tab (61). Lowe teaches a holder (11) comprising a bottom having an adhesive (21) with a protective cover (23). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art in view of Balmer and Cottone'173 or Lowe to modify the holder of Coy so each corner includes a radius as taught by Balmer to prevent sharp corners in the holder and the bottom of the holder includes an adhesive with a protective cover as taught by Cottone'173 or Lowe for better securing the holder on the support surface.
